

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Acronyms	xi
PART I – CONFERENCE REPORT	1
<hr/>
Executive Summary	3
The Militarization of Space	3
Civil and Commercial Uses of Space	4
Military and Security Uses of Space	5
Securing Space for Peaceful Purposes	7
Pursuing a Space Weapons Ban	8
Conclusion	10
PART II – CONFERENCE PAPERS	11
<hr/>
Chapter 1 Militarization, Weaponization and Space Sanctuary: Past Dialogues, Current Discourse, Important Distinctions
Bruce M. DeBlois	13
Proposition 1: Social and Economic Interests	15
Proposition 2: Technological and Doctrinal Inertia	16
Proposition 3: Diplomatic Leverage	16
Proposition 4: Military Superiority	16
Summary Proposition favouring the advent of space weapons: Historical Precedent	16
Counter-Proposition 1: Appropriateness	17
Counter-Proposition 2: Military Nonsense	17

Counter-Proposition 3: Exorbitant Costs	18
Counter-Proposition 4: Bad Precedent	18
Summary Counter-Proposition opposing the advent of space weapons: A Logical Appeal	19
Chapter 2 Current and Future Military Uses of Space
Peter L. Hays	21
What is Spacepower?	21
Ways to Categorize Spacepower	22
Does Spacepower Constitute a Revolution in Military Affairs? . .	30
Military Space Cooperation: Opportunities and Challenges . . .	34
Chapter 3 Security Without Weapons in Space: Challenges and Options
Rebecca Johnson	65
The Politics of Space Weaponization.	66
Addressing the Vulnerability of Space Assets	68
International Approaches	71
Conclusion	79
Recent UNIDIR Publications	87